Bouquet Preservation

Welcome

Your wedding bouquet is a beautiful reminder of one of the most special days of your life. Bouquet preservation allows you to enjoy your flowers for years to come, either as a keepsake for yourself or a thoughtful gift for bridesmaids or loved ones.

At Paper & Petals we offer a pressing, drying and framing service for preserving your bridal bouquet for years to come.

The Preservation Process

1. Drop-off

Flowers should be hand delivered as soon as possible after the wedding, ideally within 24–48 hours to AB41 7RT.

Bouquets should be fresh and intact; any wilted or damaged flowers may not preserve.

2. Preservation Method

Each bouquet is carefully taken apart, with individual flowers selected, pressed and dried based on what we know will work best from your chosen stems.

Drying takes around four to six weeks, with the full preservation process typically taking three to five months.

3. Display Options

You can choose between an off the shelf frame, similar in quality to those from a homeware store, or a bespoke frame made by a local craftsman for something totally individual.

What to expect

Colour: Some natural fading is normal; preserved flowers may look slightly different from fresh blooms.

Shape: We preserve the structure carefully, but delicate petals may curl or shrink slightly.

Size: Dried bouquets are lighter and may be slightly smaller than the original.

Longevity: With proper care, preserved flowers can last many years.

Pricing

Option 1 – Off the shelf Frame

The cost for the bouquet preservation, artwork process and a suitable off the shelf frame is from £295 when we are your wedding florist, or from £345 when we are not.

Additional smaller add on frames are available from £80+/frame depending on how many bouquets and arrangements there are.
